

guilty of bigamy. He says his first mari-giving in Cincinnati. Bartley denies being guilty of bigamy. He says his first matrimonial venture was made in New Orleans, the lady being a Miss Courtney, with whom he went west where they quarrelled, separated and were divorced. His second marriage was to a Miss Voigt, of Cincinnati. They soon separated. Bartley says he then went to New York, and claims that he obtained a divorce there from his second wife, and in course of time met and married a Miss Dubois in West Virginia. Bartly's assertion that he was divorced from his second wife is denied by the detectives, who allege that it is she who made the complaint on which he was arrested. Judge Bartley, who married the sister of General Sherman informed the authorities here some days ago that he has two sons, one of whom is out West and the other a scape-grace, he supposed, was in Washington.

New York Sunday Herald says: "The Attorney-General of the United States has done many unusual things since he came into office, but his last performance is the most remarkable that so high a functionary ever committed. On Friday, December 28th, Attorney-General Brewster appeared for the United States in the case of 'The New Orleans National Bank vs. Merchant Postmaster of New Orleans.' This is the case wherein the Postmaster General directed that the mail of the bank be withheld because of its (the bank's) alleged connection with the Louisiana Lottery Company. With the merits of the case I have nothing to do. But in the Attorney-General's speech he took ground for the Government all the grounds that the

for the Government—in the reports of the New Orleans press be accurate—that contains the most remarkable assumption of the time. His first position was that the Postmaster-General is an official to whom will the people of the United States were subject; that with him rested the power and authority to decide whether they (the people) should participate in the benefits of any institution of the National Government to which has been delegated the administration of public affairs. He declared that a member of the Cabinet, as an official, was without restriction or responsibility for any of his acts to the citizen, however wrong those acts might be. Attorney-General Brewster further stated that the Cabinet member was absolutely supreme in the discharge of his duties, and therefore beyond the reach of any judicial process, and that the only power that could punish him was Congress, by act of impeachment.

"The Attorney General did not stop here. He told the United States Circuit Judge that he must not dare to render a decision against the United States and the authority of the Cabinet member, under the penalty of the disbarment of his office."

of the displeasure of the supreme authority of the country. I need not say that such an argument as this was never before made in a dignified court. There were present two United States Judges, three members of the Louisiana Supreme Bench, and at least two hundred of the leading lawyers from all parts of the State, and the unanimous opinion was that Judge Pardee should have administered to Mr. Brewster prompt and effective rebuke for his contempt of the United States Court in threatening to threaten him. The pretension that a cabinet officer, by reason of his commission, has supreme authority over the people, to whom he owes no accountability that the people were only the serfs of a haughty despot, was bad enough. But that such an official can defy the United States Court and threaten it with his vengeance

Court, and attacked it with the vehemence if it dares to do aught but what he bids, is the most outrageous and audacious assumption that a public servant has ever attempted in this country. It is more than this—it is a proclamation of imperialism in its most offensive form. I am glad to know that the speech of Mr. Brewster is to be carefully copied from the notes of the official reporter of the Court for a prominent lawyer, who was the counsel for the plaintiff, and presented to the President for his consideration, and possibly for his action. This was done at the suggestion of judges and leading members of the bar, who desire to know how far the conduct of the Attorney General meets with Executive approval."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—It is probable that the information called for by Senator Van Wyck's resolution relating to the expenditures of the Department of Justice, will be sent into the Senate some time during next week. Mr. Van Wyck has called for the vouchers and the items of the expense account of the Department during the last year. It will be shown that enormous sums have been wasted in the payment of spies or so-called detectives, who have had their expenses paid down to even drinks.

It will also be shown that some extraordinary fees have been paid. There are cases of special counsel employed in some of the Territories being paid at the rate of $50 a day. Some of the most remarkable $100-a-day expenses have been put in by George Bliss, and have all been approved by the Attorney General. Besides receiving $100 a day from the Government ever since his connection with the Star Route cases, he has charged every item of his personal expenditures. At the close of the first year George Bliss drew from the Department for his fees over $38,000. There is no reason to suppose that his bill for this year will be any less. Take this in connection with his fee in the National Bank cases, where four millions was won for clients, and his share in the division of the Ottoman case, and it is estimated that his employment here must have been worth to him between $150,000 and $300,000, if no more.

Flood Wants to Fight Sullivan.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—John Flood, who was defeated by John L. Sullivan on a barge in the North River some time ago, will issue a formal challenge to-morrow to fight Sullivan, and will put up a deposit of $500. The fight must be according to the London prize-ring rules, for $2,500 a side and the championship. If Sullivan does not reply Flood will claim the championship and fight any man in the world for strip, and figure out how to use the strip to the side.

FOREIGN NEWS.

FOR WHAT REASONS?

GRANOVILLE, Jan. 7.—Great excitement exists, owing to receipt of letters by Postoffice officials, threatening to blow up the Postoffice with dynamite. The building is now strongly guarded. Officers have been ordered to arrest all loiterers in the vicinity. IT SHOULD HAVE BEEN FILLED WITH DYNAMITE.

PERU, Jan. 7.—A letter box containing $100,000 was stolen from the postoffice last night. Diligent search is being made by detectives, but no clue as yet has been discovered.

NOT PLEASANTLY RECEIVED.

ALEXANDRIA, Jan. 7.—Lord Granville's note announcing the terms on which England will assist Egypt, has been received here and has raised a storm of indignation. The ministers declare that it is a revelation of sinister purposes, which England has long had in view and the Khedive regards it as a demand for his abdication. Fervid passions are thoroughly aroused, and declares that, if forced to abdicate, he will take with him his son Prince Abbas Bey, now nine years old, so that the boy can not be raised to the Egyptian throne, and he made the tool of a foreigner.

APPEALING TO FRANCE.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Toussain Bey, the Chamberlain of the Khedive of Egypt, and Master of Ceremonies in the Egyptian royal household, has arrived here, charged with a mission to Premier Ferry and the French Cabinet, to ask that France shall demand of England that the latter power shall either annex or depart from Egypt.

SLIGHTLY DIFFERENT.

CAIRO, Jan. 6.—Official advice received from the Sudan put a different light upon the recent affair at Genirah, which has been reported as the capture of the Bahli Basak's, garrisoning that place. It transpires that the garrison was defeated by the rebels, and the latter are now marching in force upon Ber Ber.

HEER LASKER'S FUNERAL HONORS.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The friends of Herr Lasker are making elaborate preparations to do the dead liberal honor at his funeral. The ceremonies are being rapidly arranged, and the most notable feature will be the eulogies and orations by prominent leaders not confined to his own immediate party.

FRANCE WILLING TO ARBITRATE.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Le Temps states, apparently on authority, that the Marquis Tseng will propose to France to submit all matters in dispute between China and that country growing out of the Tonkin affair to the arbitration of either England or America.

ENGLAND'S CONDITIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Government has made a formal reply to the appeals of the Khedive of Egypt and the Sultan of Turkey as to the terms upon which England will consent to enter the Sudan for the purpose of suppressing El Mahdi's insurrection. The note of the English Government says that Turkey may have and hold the eastern portion of the Sudan, bordering on the Red Sea, as a Turkish provincial dependency, provided that England shall have the western or Nile portions of the same region, to be held upon a similar tenure. In this case each power is to be at the cost of maintaining order in its own territory. If this proposition be not acceptable to the Porte, Turkey may attempt the conquest of the Sudan insurgents, taking Sudan on the Red Sea as a base of operations, but at her own expense.

WONDERFUL KILLING.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 7.—While a number of workmen were engaged upon a section of the London and Northwestern Railway bridge over the Douglas River at Wigan, a portion of the structure fell, a total wreck. Seven of the workmen were killed at once and several more were so badly hurt that they may die.

AT TWENTY THOUSAND ASSEMBLED.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—An immense assemblage gathered at Chunnel yesterday to attend the long advertised meeting of the Nationalists. It is estimated that not less than 20,000 people were present at the stand, from which Michael Davitt, M. P., delivered the address of the day. There were many other speakers, but great was the demonstration, there was no disorder of any kind and the greatest quiet prevailed.

Murdered on Account of Wages.

WARREN, O., Jan. 7.—A brutal murder occurred Saturday night at the farm house of Wm. Gay, near Bloomfield, this county. James Anderson, a young man, has been employed by Gay for several months past, and a quarrel arose over the amount of wages Anderson was to receive. Gay, who is of a mischievous disposition, uttered a harsh oath, and drawing a pistol shot Anderson through the lungs, killing him instantly.

Shall We Let the Child Die?

A hard-hearted political economist, looking at a pale and puny child feebly gasping as it lies upon a pillow, says that the child might as well die. It is so weak and poor that its life will never be worth much anyhow. There are already a good many people in the world who are of not much account anyhow. And what's the use of adding to their number another weakling, who has but slender chance of ever amounting to anything?

Now ask that child's mother what she thinks about letting the child die. About this time the hard political economist had better get out of the way. "Let my child die! Not I! As long as there is a remedy to be found that will save that child, the child shall not die!" Well, try a bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS on that child. See the little fellow pick up strength. He revives. He will live. Hosts of other children have been brought almost from death to healthy life by Brown's Iron Bitters. Your druggist sells it.
